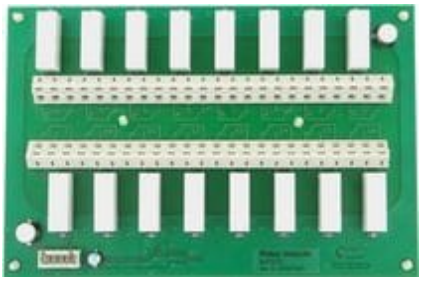
Output relays module

code: MP018



Relay module is designed for mounting to switch board with corresponding protection. Output relays module with interconnection cable. It contains 16 mains relays 250V/8A with switching-over contacts. Each relay can be controlled based on alarm creation at different input channels accordingly to setting of user program. The output relays are designed for control of external devices (switching of heating, cooling, ventilation, remote alarm, etc.).

Technical data